

Application for a Graduate Assistantship

St. Lawrence University offers four graduate assistantships each academic year to full-time graduate students. The assistantships provide tuition remission for up to four courses per semester in exchange for work for the department of education. The assistantships are awarded to prospective graduate students with a combination of skills that can be of benefit to the department. The requirements for the four assistantships vary depending upon the needs of the different programs within of the department. Decisions about assistantships are made by a committee of the graduate program faculty. The details of this application are confidential and will not be shared beyond the committee and the office of financial aid at St. Lawrence University.

Name _____ Social Security # _____

Address _____ Telephone # () _____

City, State, & Zip _____

I am applying for a graduate assistantship for the _____ academic year.

I intend to study in the following Graduate Program (check one):

- _____ General Studies in Education
- _____ Counseling and Human Development
- _____ Educational Administration

Details: Describe briefly your specific experience and skills in the following areas.

Computers and educational technology:

Bibliographic research:

Details, Continued

Writing and editing:

Organizational and/or administrative background:

Work experience in schools:

Essay

On another sheet, write a brief essay explaining the reason(s) that you desire a graduate assistantship at St. Lawrence. Beyond the obvious (that the assistantship will reduce your costs for graduate study), what particular circumstances motivate your interest in receiving an assistantship? In what ways do you feel that you are particularly deserving?

For Departmental Use Only:

- Counseling
- Teaching
- Field Experience
- Administration